Accumulation of neutral lipids in SpringerLink

January 3rd, 2020 - In reality the fractional rate of lipid efflux of 14 C lipid in medium total 14 C lipid was significantly lower in those cells with high ORO scores pared to those with low scores It therefore seems that low HDL C levels coupled with lipid accumulation in peripheral cells represent an additional index of AD'

'Locating the cortical bottleneck for slow reading in

*April 12th, 2020 - Yu Legge Park Gage and Chung 2010 suggested that the neural bottleneck for slow peripheral reading is located in nonretinotopic areas We investigated the potential rate limiting neural site for peripheral reading using fMRI and contrasted peripheral reading with recognition of peripherally presented line drawings of mon objects'INX 18 and INX 19 play distinct roles in electrical

October 29th, 2019 - Author summary Animals are constantly adjusting their behavior to respond to changes in the environment or to their internal state This behavior modulation is achieved by altering the activity of neurons and circuits through a variety of neuroplasticity mechanisms Chemical synapses are known to impact neuroplasticity in several different ways but the diversity of mechanisms by which'

'Linking Topography to Tonotopy in the Mouse Auditory

April 30th, 2020 - The mouse sensory neocortex is reported to lack several hallmark features of topographic anization such as ocular dominance and orientation columns in primary visual cortex or fine scale tonotopy in primary auditory cortex AI Here we re examined the question of auditory functional topography by aligning ultra dense receptive field maps from the auditory cortex and thalamus of the mouse'
